

NEW YORK POST

May 22, 2008

Dream homes

When only a mansion will do

By Victor Wishna

Upper West Side $7.35 million

This iconic Clarence True townhouse nestled on a brownstone block of West End Avenue “offers the ultimate in old-world grandeur.” Spread out among 6,000 square feet and five levels (plus a roof deck and basement), the home includes five bedrooms, six-plus bathrooms, a “grand” entry hall, an “exquisite” formal living room and dining room, a library and two maids’ rooms. Sure, it’s big, but the real beauty is in the details: eight wood-burning fireplaces, original plaster moldings on the ceilings, original crown molding, mahogany inlay on the floors, a “graceful” staircase, Roman arches and columns, mahogany library bookcases and a shaving closet. Plus, the home gets “glorious light”— front and back. Agent: Deanna Kory, The Corcoran Group, (212) 937-7011.

